

Tall Timbers Fire Ecology Conference 17th Proceedings

High Intensity Fire In Wildlands: Management, Challenges, and Options

Table of Contents

Preface (p. ix) Sharon M. Hermann, J. Larry Landers, and Ronald L. Myers

About the Tall Timbers Fire Ecology Conference (p. xi) Roy Komarek

Contributors (p. xii)

Conference Dedication to E. V. Komarek, Sr. (p. 1) James A. Stevenson

About E. V. Komarek, Sr. (p. 3) J. Larry Landers

Reflections (p. 5) E. V. Komarek, Sr.

The First E.V. Komarek Sr. Fire Ecology Lecturer: Norman L. Christensen, Jr. (p. 7) Ronald L. Myers and Louise E. Robbins

Wilderness and High-Intensity Fire: How Much Is Enough (p. 9) Norman L. Christensen

Historical Perspective: A Prerequisite for Better Public Understanding of fire Management Challenges (p. 25) George E. Guell

Ecology and Management of High-Intensity Fires in Yellowstone National Park (p. 43) Don G. Despain and William H. Romme

The 1947 Maine Fires: The Last Great Fires in New England? (p. 59) William A. Patterson III

Disturbance Influences on Pine Traits in the Southeastern United States (p. 61) J. Larry Landers

The Natural Fire Regime of an Unprotected Section of the Boreal Forest in Canada (p. 99) Timothy J. Lynham and B. J. Stocks

Reconstructing Fire History in Knobcone Pine (p. 111) Joe R. McBride

Resilience to Fire Does Not Imply Adaptation to Fire: An Example from the California Chaparral (p. 113) Jon E. Keeley

Effects of the 1988 Fires on Ungulates in Yellowstone National Park (p. 121) Mark S. Boyce and Evelyn H. Merrill

The Fire Effects Information System: A Computerized Encyclopedia of Fire Ecology (p. 133) William C. Fischer

Evaluating Pyrogenicity and Its Effects on Vegetation In Longleaf Pine Savannas (p. 143) William J. Platt, Jeff S. Glitzenstein, and Donna R. Streng

Effects of Disturbance on Community Boundary Dynamics on Cumberland Island, Georgia (p. 163) Buy R. McPherson and Susan P. Bratton

Fire Influences on Central Rocky Mountain Lodgepole Pine Stand Structure and Composition (p. 183) Tamara L. Franklin and Richard D. Laven

Post-Fire Revegetation of Jack Pine Sites in Michigan: An Example of Successional Complexities (p. 197) Marc D. Wade

Fire and Vegetation in Peat-Based marshes of the Coastal Plain: Examples from the Okefenokee and Great Dismal Swamps (p. 217) Sharon Hermann, Ronald A. Phernetton, Allen Carter, and Tony Gooch

Fire Regimes and management in southeastern Australia (p. 235) Robert J. Whelan and Roslyn M. Muston

Veld Burning in the Druger National Park, south Africa-- An Adaptive Approach (p. 259) William P. D. Gertenbach

Fire Behavior and Stem Survival in the New Jersey Pine Plains (p. 273) Andrew G. Windisch and Ralph E. Good

Condominiums, Trailer Parks, and High-Intensity Fires: The Future of Sand Pine Scrub Preserves in Florida (p. 301) Ronald L. Myers

Fire Regimes in Subtropical South Florida (p. 303) James R. Snyder

Restoring Natural Fire to the Sequoia-Mixed Conifer Forest: Should Intense Fire Play a Role? (p. 321) Nathan L. Stephenson, David J. Parsons, and Thomas W. Swetnam

Evolution and Implementation of a Fire Management Program Which Deals With High-Intensity Fires on the Payette National Forest in Central Idaho (p. 339) Gene W. Benedict, Larry R. Swan, and Richard A. Belnap

Use of Firing Techniques to Achieve Naturalness in Florida Parks (p. 353) Robert Dye

A Forest Supervisor's Perspective on the Prescribed Natural Fire (p. 361) Orville L. Daniels

Training to Meet the Demand for Conflagration Fire Management (p. 367) James L. Murphy and Frank T. Cole

Legal Implications Associated With Use and Control of Fire as a Management Practice (p. 375) David H. White
Management Options and Policy Directions Concerning High-Intensity Fire: A Fire Policy Panel Discussion (p. 385) Bruce M. Kilgore
Policy directions and Management Options for High-Intensity Fire Habitats: A Conference Summary (p. 395) Sharon M. Hermann
POSTER ABSTRACTS (p. 401)
Conference Participants (p. 425)

Note: Papers in this proceedings are presented in program order.
