

Fees Associated with Conducting Research on Tall Timbers' Property

Tall Timbers (TT) is a non-profit organization dedicated to conducting research on the ecology of fire and on ecosystems in the southeastern US coastal plain. The following fees have been instituted to cover costs to TT for research support typically requested by visiting scientists that have no formal or grant affiliated joint research projects with a station scientist as a co-PI. Note that we are not financially affiliated with any university, government organization or other organization therefore any project proposed on Tall Timbers must pay its way. Assistance whether it be office space, lab space, storage space, administrative support, or for any assistance requiring station personnel or equipment is charged at the below rates.

Administrative Fee - $100 (A research initiation fee charged to cover cost of printing maps, keys and other administrative incidentals that go along with project start up.) Note: The Administrative Fee is waived for short-term and daily collection activities not requiring staff time.

Office, Lab, and storage space - @ $11/square foot/year (1 year minimum)

Copier use, supplies and postage - actual expenses

Researcher Responsibility: Once a project has been approved, researchers, research assistants, students and other are obligated to pay all fees that apply to facilities use and services they have requested. Principle Investigators are financially responsible for all team members they employ. Those delinquent in payment will not be allowed station access until all bills are paid. Accounts are considered delinquent after one year and the PI will be responsible for collection and interest fees beyond that point.
